What's Owens-Corning doing with a 10,000 year-old miracle fiber?

Fiber glass may have been discovered some 10,000 years ago when nomadic tribesmen built a fire in the sand.

The heat melted the sand.
Poking his stick into the puddle, a tribesman pulled away a long string. The further he pulled, the thinner it got. Until it hardened. The tribesman didn't know he was seeing a miracle.
Or that he was the first man to draw glass into a fiber.

Today, we melt sand plus other ingredients at 2500° F. While the glass is liquid, it flows through tiny holes that shape it into fibers finer than human hair. That's fiber glass. Which can either be made into insulation and construction products.
Or assembled into textile yarn — for weaving fabrics and reinforcing products.

Glass in fiber form has a combination of properties you won't find in any other material.
Fiber glass is dimensionally stable, flexible, fire resistant, strong. These characteristics have made fiber glass an important material. And Owens-Corning is the world's leading maker of glass fibers, producing a wide range of products under the trademark "Fiberglas."

Over 30,000 end products contain some Fiberglas® material.

Fabrics — which resist fading, shrinking, wrinkling or burning.

Insulation — which keeps buildings warmer in winter, cooler in summer. Plus sports equipment, cars, tires and many other things.

At Owens-Corning, we're putting a 10,000 year-old fiber to good use!

Owens-Corning is Fiberglas
